Chapter 1 by 0

This is a story of a person that survives the unimaginable.

Quarantine Zones? War? Mysterious Figures? Zombies? WEAPONS??

It all starts now....

Ding, Ding, Ding, Mary walks into the store. This is the store where you can buy many things. Its interesting though, their is nobody in here its empty. Well I guess since no body is in here, I can STEAL things that I need.

Then all of the sudden the nuclear drill rings.....

Chapter 2 by Noble

I look out the dusty glass pane window to see a convoy of M1 Abram tanks roll by. Military forces were mobilizing to defend this city after there were confirmed reports that the undead had overrun the city of Los Angeles only miles away. The US Army, UN allies and local militia have set fortifications along the border of the city, digging trenches and setting up weaponry. Surrounding the city were wide empty fields that would give us the advantage.

I didn't plan to be in the trenches or behind a .50 Cal, because I know this city is done for. I hurriedly stuffed cans of Chef Boyardee Spaghetti and bottled water into my canvas backpack and rushed into the back alley. I avoided all contact as I ran to the east side of the city.

For some reason, the brass and the pencil-necks in Washington DC believe that evacuations are meaningless and that the US must not be seen as weak to other nations. Instead, martial law was declared in every standing city and walls were constructed to cage everyone in. The only
